

Day Two: In your small group, observe the periodic table built by your class last class period. Can you identify any patterns in the organization of elements?